Talbott Asks Public Hearing On Profit Activity

Subcommittee to Grant Request by Air Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP)—A public senatorial investigation of Air Secretary Harold E. Talbott's business connections shaped up today. Talbott asked for the hearing "in view of rumors, publicity, and discussion" of his profit-sharing relations with Paul B. Mulligan & Co., New York management engineers.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate investigating subcommittee, said the subcommittee will grant the request and that the hearing will be held soon—possibly Friday.

Talbott's request followed disclosure that the subcommittee had copies of several letters apparently showing the air secretary actively sought business for the firm. Reporters saw copies of letters Talbott had written on his official stationery.

On Tuesday, according to informed sources, Talbott told the subcommittee he receives about $60,000 a year from the company. But he insisted there was nothing unethical about it.

Sen. George H. Bender (R-Ohio), a member of the subcommittee, backed him up. He said there is no indication that Talbott profited because of his federal post or that he had done anything wrong.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), another subcommittee member, agreed that public hearings should be held because of publicity in the case. But he said Talbott had been "candid and fair" in private talks with the subcommittee.

Other congressional news: Sherman Adams, assistant to the President, "respectfully" declined to testify before a Senate subcommittee investigating the Dixie-Yates private power contract. He had been "invited" to appear by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.). Adams wrote Kefauver there is "nothing I could add" to testimony the subcommittee already has received. Because of his "official and confidential relationship" to President Eisenhower, "I respectfully decline the subcommittee's invitation," Adams said. Although the contract has been cancelled, the Kefauver group is still investigating its background.

TVA: Chairman Herbert D. Voigt asked congressional authority for the Tennessee Valley Authority to finance future expansion of power capacity with revenue bonds. Sale of such bonds by TVA would eliminate need for congressional appropriations for plant building.

Minimum Wage: The House passed 362-54 Wednesday a bill raising the minimum wage from 75 cents to $1 an hour. It rejected 188-145 an administration move to substitute a 90-cent figure. Both House and Senate have agreed on the $1 level, but the Senate bill would be effective next Jan. 1, two months earlier than the effective date of the House bill.

Surplus: The Senate by voice vote passed and sent to the House a bill raising the limit from 700 million dollars to $1,500,000,000 the amount of surplus farm commodities the government may sell abroad for foreign currencies. The bill also provides that half of the commodities must be shipped in American vessels.

Voting: The Senate also shouted approval to a bill to overhaul the law providing for absentee voting by servicemen in national elections. The bill goes back to the House for action on an amendment added to the measure by the Senate.

Duster Pilot Swerves
To Miss House in Crashing to Death

LEPANTO, Ark. (AP)—A cotton duster pilot saved eight persons from possible death Wednesday by swerving to avoid their house before crashing to his death.

The pilot, Roy E. Craven of Lepanto, was killed when the plane crashed 10 feet from the home of E. W. Adams of Lepanto.

Adams, sitting on the porch, said he sat "frozen" as the pilot "looked in the eye" then swerved the plane. Seven members of the Adams family were inside the house.

Police and federal authorities, called in on the case, said the robbery appeared to have been well planned.

LT. COL. ROBERT REED, former Harrisburg man, conducted an inspection of 347th Replacement Battalion and 825th Replacement Company, U. S. Army reserve units with headquarters in Harrisburg. The inspection, held Wednesday evening at the reserve armory on South Vine street, was primarily to determine the status of the training plans for the units before reporting for two weeks active duty at Camp McCoy. The units will be on active duty effective Sunday, July 24. Col. Reed, a reservist, has been on extended active duty since 1937 and at present is S-3 (plans and training officer) for the Illinois Military District, with headquarters in Chicago. Seated, left to right, Lt. Col. Reed, Lt. State Police Directive Will Enforce New Law Against Highway Litterbugs

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Litterbugs who have scattered tons of trash from dead pet monkeys to old Christmas trees along Illinois roads today faced stiffer penalties for future violations.

The 69th General Assembly passed and Gov. William G. Stratton signed a bill to increase penalties for littering rural highways from a $3-to-$10 fine to $5 to $50.

State Police Supt. Phil M. Brown said a directive would go out soon instructing state policemen to strictly enforce the new law, especially against persons who "deliberately make a dump out of our highways."

Brown said it would be very difficult to enforce the law against a motorist who casually flips a cigarette package out the window. But he said, "I don't think we should have any mercy" on persons who deliberately dump loads of trash along the highways.

He said "we hope to abolish it" if the law is strictly enforced.

Two Young
Gunmen Hold
Up Mail Train

NEW YORK (AP)—Two masked gunmen held up a moving New York Central mail train Wednesday night in a mid-Manhattan version of the great train robbery that missed the big money shipment and made off only with eight bags of cancelled checks.

The brazen young bandits passed up eight more bags containing $2,700 in coin, police said, apparently because they reasoned the lighter bags must be full of bills.

The youths, described as in their 20's, confronted Railway Express messenger Thomas Mason, 60, of Buffalo, N. Y., with drawn pistols near 42nd St. shortly after the 11-c train pulled out of Pennsylvania Station bound for Albany. They wore white handkerchief masks.

Mason said, "If you open your mouth, we'll kill you," Mason quoted them.

"They asked where the money was and I told them 'it's in those bags over there,'" Mason said.

Mason said he was alone in the next to the last car when the two youths confronted him. "At first I thought they were fooling with me—that they were just a couple of wise kids," he said. "I wasn't frightened until I saw the guns."

The gunmen handcuffed Mason's hands behind his back with his own handcuffs, jammed his cap into his mouth to keep him from crying out and tied his feet with rope. One of the men emptied the bullets from Mason's gun as an added precaution, he said. Then they jumped off the slowly moving train with the mail sacks.

Mason began kicking on the side of the car as soon as the men left. A fellow trainman heard the noise and pulled the emergency cord, stopping the train.

Police and federal authorities, called in on the case, said the robbery appeared to have been well planned.

Vermont Girl Named Miss United States

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Statuesque Carlene King Johnson, a 22-year-old jewelry designer, will compete as Miss United States tonight against 32 foreign beauties in the semifinals of the Miss Universe contest.

The tall, blonde beauty gasped with excitement Wednesday night when nine judges chose her "Miss United States" from among four other finalists who had been selected from 15 semi-finalists Tuesday night. She represents the United States in the fourth annual battle for the title of "Most Beautiful Girl in the World."

If Miss Johnson survives the semifinals tonight, she will get a chance for the big glory in the final contest Friday night.

With the Miss U. S. A. title, Carlene won a $200 per week contract at Universal International Studio, a pearl necklace, a sterling silver compact and a gold trophy.

"I'm very happy. I hope I'll be a credit to the United States in the international competition," she said with a smile.

The blue-eyed Vermont girl is 5 feet, 11 inches tall and weighs 122 pounds. Her measurements are 35-24-35. She confided she is a typical Vermont Republican.

In her home town, Rutland, she is nicknamed "Muscles" and "Slugger."

She said she thought there is no ideal age for marriage. She said she has no boy friends.

"When a girl is ready and mature enough she'll marry," Miss Johnson said. "It's different in different sections of the country."

W. H. Robinson is Named to County
Farmers Home Administration Committee

W. H. Robinson of Rt. 4, Harrisburg, is the new member of the Saline County committee for the Farmers Home Administration. His appointment became effective July 1. E. Ronald Coon, the agency's county supervisor, announced.

Mr. Robinson succeeds Eugene Reynolds whose term on the three-member committee expired this year.

Mr. Robinson operates a 200-acre grain farm in Cottage township. He is also a member of the Saline County Farm Bureau.

The other two members of the committee are Earl O'Keefe and Ruel Thaxton. Mr. O'Keefe operates a 200-acre livestock and grain farm and is also a board member of the Saline County Farm Bureau. Mr. Thaxton lives on a farm in Cottage township and is a livestock farmer. He is also a member of the Saline County Farm Bureau.

There is a Farmers Home Administration county committee in every agricultural county in the country. The committee determines the eligibility of applicants and helps the county supervisor adapt the agency's loan policies and services to local conditions. Each member is named for a three-year term, and one appointment expires each year. A member completing his three year term cannot succeed himself. At least

Ex-Treasury Official Listed Loyalty Risk

Last Person Still In Public Life Named
By Elizabeth Bentley

WASHINGTON (AP)—William Henry Taylor, former Treasury official now employed by the International Monetary Fund, has been officially adjudged a loyalty risk. It was disclosed today.

Informed sources said the International Organization Employees Loyalty Board, in an "advisory recommendation" to the monetary fund, declared it was "convinced" that Taylor "engaged in espionage and subversive activity."

Taylor is the last person still in public life who was named by ex-Communist Elizabeth Bentley as a member of a Soviet spy ring within the government headed by the late Harry Dexter White.

Taylor has denied under oath, before grand juries and congressional committees, that he was ever a Communist or a spy. In recent months, he has publicly demanded the right to cross-examine Miss Bentley, who said she did not know Taylor personally but heard about him from other members of the alleged ring which operated before and during World War II.

Taylor's attorney, former Rep. Byron Scott (D-Calif.), told reporters the loyalty board's ruling was "unbelievable."

"They have, in effect, convicted Mr. Taylor—without due process of law—on evidence upon which four grand juries have refused to indict him," Scott said. "They have accepted unsworn testimony of unidentified witnesses against his sworn testimony in refutation. Of course, none of these unidentified witnesses was presented against him at the hearing, so we had no opportunity to cross-examine them or test their credibility."

Estranged Mate
Jailed for Refusing To Pay Light Bill

CHICAGO (AP)—Philip Garrett, 35, faced six months in jail today for refusing to pay a light bill.

He was sentenced Wednesday by Judge Julius H. Miner after his estranged wife, Eileen, 30, said electricity in their home was cut off a month ago by his refusal.

Mrs. Garrett is suing her husband, a pressman, for divorce on grounds of cruelty.

But Miner said that suit or no suit, a husband has no right to deny his wife the conveniences of modern-day living—such as electric lights, washing machines and refrigerators.

The judge made his decision after Mrs. Garrett's attorney, Norman Becker, told him, "Living conditions in the home have been set back 50 years."

Becker said Mrs. Garrett "has to do the laundry at a neighbor's whenever they are not using their washing machine."

"She keeps ice in the electric refrigerator, and keeps some food at neighbors when they have spare space in their refrigerators," he said.

Becker said the safety of the Garretts' five children, aged 3 to 11, was endangered because "they have to use candles, kerosene lamps and flashlights to get around the home after dark."

This move came a day after Mr. Eisenhower had tied up traffic in downtown Geneva by walking on the spur of the moment into a toy store to buy presents for "my kids"—his grandchildren, Barbara, Susan and David.

In the conference chamber itself on the first day, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin used his position as last speaker to bid for the headlines with his new two-stage security program.

But the President smothered a lot of the propaganda effect by giving his enthusiastic cheers to Bulganin for saying his piece in such a nice way.

On the second day of the parley, the President again collected the headlines. He also won Bulganin's tribute when he turned, wide-eyed and open-faced, to Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov to be his witness that he hated war.

Still without appearing to try, the President, who is not a great phrase maker, came up with the third day's best catchline when he urged Russia to join the West in finding a "bridge to peace."

Mr. Eisenhower also has shown a nice public relations touch in countering the few criticisms against him without appearing to notice they were there.

"Some critics were saying unkind things about the fact he stood on protocol as the only head of state here and declined to attend the round of dinners given by the three premiers."

But he took the steam out of any suggestion that he was a stuffy old man by inviting Zhukov in for a man-to-man lunch between old war comrades Wednesday. He even walked out on the porch to meet Zhukov.

The President gets a bigger hand than any of the other heads of government when he rides around Geneva.

Bishop Expelled by Peron Presides at Second Session of Eucharistic Congress

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Argentine Bishop Msgr. Manuel Tato, expelled by Argentine President Juan D. Peron, will preside at the second solemn session of the 36th International Eucharistic Congress, it was announced today.

Jaime de Barros Cardenal Camara of Rio de Janeiro said Bishop Tato will replace Antonio Cardinal Caggiano, of Rosario, Argentina, who was to have presided at tonight's session in Congress Square.

Neither Cardinal Caggiano nor Santiago Cardinal Copello of Buenos Aires was able to attend the congress.

Tato arrived here from Rome Saturday with Benedetto A. Cardinal Masella, personal representative of Pope Pius XII. Heading a large Argentine delegation, Tato has been cheered on every public appearance he has made at the congress.

Tato was one of two Roman Catholic leaders expelled by Peron at the height of the church-state controversy in Argentina. Later Peron said they could return. Teodoro Cardinal Gouveia, of Lourenco Marques, Mozambique, presided at Wednesday night's opening solemn session attended by more than 100,000 pilgrims in vast Congress Square. Lourenco Marques, an Indian Ocean port 300 miles east of Johannesburg in South Africa, is considered a likeable choice for the site of the next congress.

Cardinal Camara read a message sent to the congress by President Eisenhower expressing the hope it will inspire all men of all creeds to "work with renewed devotion for a just peace on earth."

The President said "those who exercise spiritual leadership among free nations constitute a great force that can do a great deal to carry forward that cause."

Cardinal Camara sent a reply that the President's request for prayers for peace was being answered by the 20 cardinals, 300 bishops, thousands of priests and a million pilgrims from the world over attending the congress.

Ike is Giving
Russians Lesson
In Propaganda

GENEVA (AP)—President Eisenhower has given the Russians some easy lessons in the art of propaganda by doing what comes naturally, and it appeared today the Soviets are apt pupils.

The newly-awful Communists suddenly threw open the gates to their villa late Wednesday and posed agreeably on the lawn for all photographers who wanted a crack at them.

This move came a day after Mr. Eisenhower had tied up traffic in downtown Geneva by walking on the spur of the moment into a toy store to buy presents for "my kids"—his grandchildren, Barbara, Susan and David.

In the conference chamber itself on the first day, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin used his position as last speaker to bid for the headlines with his new two-stage security program.

But the President smothered a lot of the propaganda effect by giving his enthusiastic cheers to Bulganin for saying his piece in such a nice way.

On the second day of the parley, the President again collected the headlines. He also won Bulganin's tribute when he turned, wide-eyed and open-faced, to Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov to be his witness that he hated war.

Still without appearing to try, the President, who is not a great phrase maker, came up with the third day's best catchline when he urged Russia to join the West in finding a "bridge to peace."

Mr. Eisenhower also has shown a nice public relations touch in countering the few criticisms against him without appearing to notice they were there.

"Some critics were saying unkind things about the fact he stood on protocol as the only head of state here and declined to attend the round of dinners given by the three premiers."

But he took the steam out of any suggestion that he was a stuffy old man by inviting Zhukov in for a man-to-man lunch between old war comrades Wednesday. He even walked out on the porch to meet Zhukov.

Asks Russia to Swap Military Blueprints

President Also Proposes Freedom of Aerial Photography

GENEVA (AP)—President Eisenhower today challenged Russia to exchange complete military blueprints with the United States, in a dramatic bid to prove America wants peace.

He also proposed complete freedom of aerial photography.

The President threw in his startling proposals at this afternoon's session of the Big Four summit conference which was considering world disarmament.

Mr. Eisenhower suggested that his proposals be accepted as an immediate, practical step to build mutual trust between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Conference sources said the Russians made no immediate reply. The President's proposal was two-fold:

1. That the United States and Soviet Russia should give each other a complete blueprint of their military establishments, from one end of each country to the other.

2. That they provide facilities for aerial photography of each other's territory. The United States would provide such facilities for Russian aerial reconnaissance with complete freedom for the Russians to take all the pictures they wanted for study by Moscow. The Communists would provide the same facilities for the United States.

Today's summit session formally took up the disarmament issue after agreeing to postpone hearing a foreign minister's report on future study of the deadlocked issues of German reunification and European security.

French Premier Edgar Faure said he wished the peoples of the world could be in the conference room to hear Mr. Eisenhower's voice.

If the people could have heard him, Faure said, they would have remembered July 21 as the day that something had changed on disarmament.

British Prime Minister Anthony Eden said he was "deeply moved" by the sincerity of the President's proposal. If it were adopted, he said, it would be a great step forward.

There was no comment from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty said Mr. Eisenhower's proposal was addressed principally to the Soviets.

Bulganin was the first to speak at today's conference session. He offered an expanded proposal on security. This, Hagerty said, was discussed for about 25 minutes.

Speaks After Bulganin

Mr. Eisenhower was the second speaker, followed by Faure and Eden.

In opening his remarks, Mr. Eisenhower said he had been searching from his "heart and mind" for something to say to convince everyone of the great sincerity of the United States in the search for peace.

He said he was talking mainly to the Russians, because it was they and the United States who possessed new and terrible weapons which gave rise to fears and dangers of surprise attack.

Then he outlined his two-point plan to throw open both nations to free inspection from the air, and exchange of military blueprints.

By this step, he told the Soviets, the two great powers could convince the world they would be providing between themselves against the possibility of "a great surprise attack."

He suggested that simultaneously the United Nations disarmament subcommittee be instructed to give priority effort to studying problems of inspection and reporting of weapons establishments—the main problems separating East and West on disarmament.

He pointed out that "no sound and reliable agreement can be made unless it is completely covered by an inspection and reporting system adequate to support every portion of the agreement."

Today's summit session convened half an hour earlier than usual to receive a report on the arrangements agreed upon earlier today by the foreign ministers.

It was understood the West proposed an October meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers to resume the study of the twin problems.

Hope and Fear At the Summit

Editorial — BY LEON DENNEN
It is certainly odd, to put it mildly, how many question marks surround the coming Big Four meeting at the "Summit." Nearly every speculation on this topic begins with a question. Yet few end with a clear answer.

Thus, while Western Europe is clinging to its hopes for the Geneva meeting, in Washington, on the contrary, there is profound skepticism regarding the outcome.

Our European allies — with the notable exception of West Germany's wise Chancellor Konrad Adenauer — seem to believe that there is more behind Moscow's "new look" than meets the naked eye. President Eisenhower, on the other hand, is said to temper his high hopes with doubts about the Red's peace drive, suspecting it is designed chiefly to induce a relaxation in the Western defense system.

Moreover, there is a feeling in State Department circles that Russia is negotiating from weakness brought on by grave internal troubles in the Red bloc.

Who is right: Britain and France or the U. S.? It is perhaps too soon to say. But it is not too soon to suggest that neither in Europe nor in the U. S. are the diplomats really concentrating on the major issue.

And the major issue is: How to maintain the unity of the hard-won NATO Alliance — despite Moscow's blandishments of a political "new deal" and "peaceful co-existence."

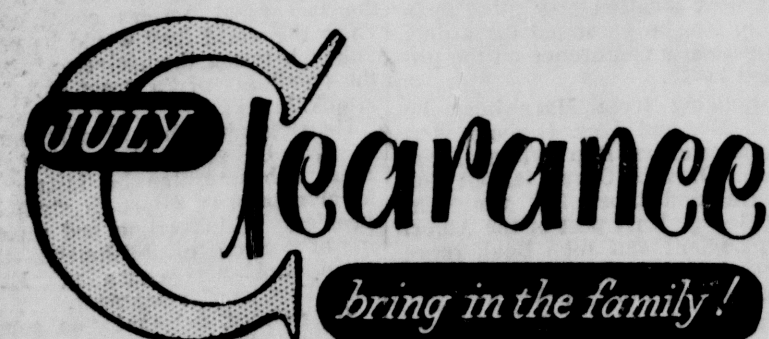

When diplomats say they are hopeful or skeptical about the Geneva conference, they usually refer to the prospects of reaching a satisfactory settlement with the Moscow-Peking Axis. This, of course, is important. But it is not all important.

It will not be the first time — nor is it likely to be the last — when a conference with the Reds has ended in deadlock. However, the conference could end with another split between the NATO powers. That would be really tragic.

Such a split actually occurred at last year's Geneva talks on Korea and Indochina. By skillfully playing on the differences between the U. S., Britain and France, Russia's Vyacheslav Molotov and Red China's Premier Chou En-lai were able to thwart Korean unity and gain in addition a big slice of Indochina.

The Reds hope to gain as much, if not more, at the "Summit" conference.

Under the circumstances, it seems to us, the urgent need of the moment is surely for all — common, official and private, in the free countries to avoid unnecessary exaggeration of differences and help President Eisenhower, Britain's Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Edgar Faure to speak with one voice in the defense of the free world.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Geneva Swarming With Secret Agents; Wire-Tapping Devices Everywhere; Swiss Taking Extra Security Precautions During "Summit" Conference.

GENEVA — Switzerland today is the base for the greatest conglomeration of spies in recent European history. It always was a haven for spies, and it was here that Allen Dulles, now sometimes called the "chief spymaster of the USA," operated as head of the European OSS during the war. Now that the Geneva conference is in full blast, secret agents have invaded this usually sun-drenched city equipped with the greatest collection of wire-tapping devices ever assembled in any one place. They beat anything Senator McCarthy ever dreamed of. These long-distance listening devices are such that they can be placed near the Russian delegation or the villa occupied by Eisenhower, and thus agents can listen in on personal conversations by either Ike or Premier Bulganin before either sits down with his opposite number. One device is so fantastic that it can pick up sound 200 yards away. The agents operating these devices are both Russian and American, and it will be a miracle if either Eisenhower or Bulganin goes into a conference with each other without knowing in advance exactly what the other man is thinking about.

GENEVA GO-ROUND
After this conference ends, the psychiatrists of the world will hold a meeting here. Geneva will need them. Nikita Khrushchev's official Soviet biography says he began life as a shepherd. In Geneva he shepherded three top Russian delegates into a swank villa on the lake and a large coterie of Russian experts into the austere Hotel Metropole — with the help of several dozen austere bodyguards bulging around the middle.

The Russians brought their own limousines to Geneva — well-built jobs looking somewhat like J. Edgar Hoover's car with bulletproof windows. The Russians immediately got wise, however, to tour Geneva in an open car with no bodyguards save Swiss motorcycle cops. Khrushchev made a smiling contrast to the stern-faced Secretary Dulles when he drove up, doffing his hat to the press at the opening session. He smiled cheerfully, but members of the European press commented on the eight bodyguards around him in contrast to no guards around Bulganin and Khrushchev. Unfortunately Dulles has a paralyzed lower lip which won't permit him to smile no matter how rosy the diplomatic horizon. The Swiss, a sophisticated people, take inter-national conferences in their stride; they have seen so many of them that they are bored. But this one "at the summit" has them a bit worried and they're taking extra security precautions. Contingents of the Swiss army swell the Geneva police guard and help to handle traffic. All are efficient and courteous, with many of them speaking English. Intermixed are hundreds of Swiss counterespionage agents guarding the bodyguards who guard the dignitaries.

The Swiss are very thorough people and they want no accidents to mar this conference. Even so, they are polite. Photographers were given this invitation to submit their cameras to the police to see if any sawed-off machine guns were inside. "All cameras wishing to take pictures at the Palace des Nations are invited to present their cameras to the police control," Evangelist Billy Graham opened in Geneva a day before the conference began with a prayer for the success of the Big Four's negotiations. POPE-EISENHOWER MEETING MIXED
President Eisenhower has abandoned the idea of a dramatic meeting with Pope Pius at his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo near Rome.

IPAC Reports Decline in May Assistance

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Garrett W. Keaster, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid Commission, today reported that the downward trend in numbers of persons receiving public assistance continued in May as the recipient rolls of the five public aid programs dropped to 283,220 persons. This is a decrease of 10,647 persons from April rolls, but still 6.7 per cent over the number receiving assistance in May a year ago. Economic recovery in many sections of the state plus usual seasonal employment brought employment to many persons on the public assistance rolls.

Expenditures in May for all programs came to $12,765,761, an average of $45.17 per person. The greatest decline in numbers of persons came in the General Assistance program. The load dropped by 10,513 persons from April. This is the second consecutive month for a large decline in numbers receiving assistance from this program. Expenditures amounted to $3,328,496, a drop of $197,033 from April but $760,455 more than in May a year ago. Average cost per person was $34.80.

The number of Old Age Assistance recipients dropped to 96,242 persons in May, 522 fewer persons than on the April rolls. Expenditures amounted to $5,919,349, an increase of 4.9 per cent over expenditures a year ago. Average cost per recipient was $61.84.

The trend in the Aid to Dependent Children program was still upward in May as 366 persons were added, bringing the total load to 81,724 persons, an increase of 5.0 per cent over a year ago. Expenditures in May amounted to $2,785,820, an increase in cost of 9.2 per cent over May 1954. Average cost was $34.10 per person.

In the Blind Assistance program, the May rolls carried one person less than in April, bringing the total load to 3,570. Expenditures amounted to $242,371, an average cost of $68.08 per person.

An increase of 22 persons in the Disability Assistance program brought the recipient load to 6,059, an increase of 415 persons over a year ago. Expenditures in May amounted to $489,725, an average of $81.23 per recipient.

Manpower Waste On Soviet Farms Amazes Americans

KHARKOV, Russia (AP)—Twelve American farmers touring Russia expressed amazement today at the apparent waste of manpower on Soviet collective farms.

They said comparable farms in America would be more completely mechanized and would require one-twentieth of the manpower. The Americans visited their second collective farm today. As usual, they were overwhelmed with hospitality. They were welcomed by Farm Chairman Gavril Ilyich Krivolapov and practically the entire 460 members of the farm.

Everywhere the Americans go, they are surrounded by hundreds of curious Ukrainians. On their way from Moscow Wednesday, their motorcade of black Zim taxicabs often had to stop because the crowds became so thick.

Although reluctant to make comparisons which might be considered unfriendly, the visitors said they were appalled at the necessity of employing some 700 workers on a state farm outside Moscow.

The Americans agreed that a farm of similar size in the United States could be operated by 30 workers, and with virtually complete mechanization.

The farm they visited has 2,400 acres under cultivation, 150 cattle and about 30,000 chickens.

At the farm called "Lenin's Road" outside this former capital of the Ukraine, the Americans were treated to an outdoor feast of milk and honey, fresh tomatoes, blueberries, cherries and sour cream — all raised on the farm and served by pretty farm girls in embroidered Ukrainian blouses.

Ass'n for Mentally Retarded Children Meets at Dorrisville

The Saline County Association for Mentally Retarded Children met Tuesday evening at the Dorrisville grade school for the regular business session.

Mrs. Aaron Dudley, president, presided, and following the secretary and treasurer reports she acknowledged the mail received during the past month from both state and national associations which included sample kits of materials that will be available during National Retarded Children's Week which is Nov. 13-23. The Saline county association is making plans to participate.

Mrs. Geneva Mitchell, legislative chairman, read a letter from State Senator Glen O. Jones, stating that the House Bill No. 294 which includes trainable children in the school code of Illinois was passed unanimously.

It was announced that the Egyptian Association for Mentally Retarded Children will meet August 9 in Murphysboro.

Some little old-fashioned tables, especially the marble-topped ones, make lovely skirted vanities for a bedroom or the corner of a large bathroom.

Good Teacher Must Like Children

BISMARCK, N. D. — Miss Rita Murphy, who has taught English to more than 5,000 students at the local high school, says that the secret of being a good teacher is to like children.

"That's first," she emphasized. "Knowledge of the subject comes only second."

Miss Murphy recently was named, along with nine others, to an honor roll of teachers in a national magazine (McCall's).

Miss Murphy says: "I don't have any," she said.

Widows, Left Out, Throw Own Party

SANBORN, Minn. — Most of this village's 33 widows turned out for a "merry widow" party given by Mrs. Emma Dull.

"Too many parties are for couples," said Mrs. Dull, a widow herself.

"The widows always get left out," she said. Highlight of the evening was when three men came to take them home.

when asked about discipline problems. "The only youngster I ever had to slap became a policeman. And we're good friends today."

Miss Murphy said youngsters now have many more outside activities than when she first started teaching in the 1920s.

"But that works both ways," she added. "Nowadays they have more information because of the activities."

Cooling Off Period
Applies to Suits
Filed After July 16

CHICAGO — The new "cooling off period" for persons wanting a divorce will apply only to suits filed on or after July 16, according to Illinois Atty. Gen. Latham Castle.

The new law, Castle said Wednesday, would not apply to 560 divorce suits pending in the Cook County Circuit and Superior courts, unless the judges considered decided to continue the cases.

The "cooling off" law provides that a divorce suit must not be filed until after a 60-day period of notice, except in emergency
cases.

Moroccans Fire on Motorcade of Pasha of Marrakesh

MARRAKESH, Morocco — Moroccan nationalists in explosive demonstrations today set shops in the native quarter of Marrakesh afire and fired on a motorcade which included the legendary Pasha of Marrakesh.

The pasha's own native police fired on the demonstrators killing two persons and wounding several others.

The demonstrations erupted with the visit here of the new French resident general, Gilbert Grandval, who is on a tour of inspection of the protectorate following race riots in Casablanca where more than 300 persons were killed or wounded.

Austria became a republic in 1919.

Ruth Gray Sunday School Class Enjoys Fish Fry

The July meeting of the Ruth Gray Sunday school class of the First Christian church was held Tuesday night.

Members and their families met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McDowell in Dorris Heights to enjoy a fish fry on the beautiful lawn and picnic areas. Mr. and Mrs.
Clarence Aldridge and Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Shewmake Jr. were assistants to the McDowells. Fish and potatoes were fried by Clarence Aldridge and Vance Brackney.

Due to the rain that fell about meal time, the group went to the Fellowship hall of the church and enjoyed the fish, potatoes, baked beans and other good food.

Those present for an evening of fellowship were: Mr. and Mrs.
Clarence Aldridge, Gary and Greta, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Shew-make Jr. and Kenny, Mr. and Mrs.
Harold Empson and Greg, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Uzzle, Mr. and Mrs.
David Patterson, Mr. and Mrs.
Charles Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Harris, Susie and Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Starnes, Francis, Bobby, Myrna, Buddy, Jimmy, and Janice, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Brackney, Bob and Bill, Mrs. William Robertson and Crissie, Mrs. Glen Daugherty and Glen Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boatright and Doris Jean, Mr. and Mrs. James Bolatto, Robbie and Vickie Nepote, Mrs.
James Jackson, Janet and Linda, Mrs. Frank R. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. William Sloan Jr.

Mrs. Sloan is teacher of the class.
Cecil Harris, vice president, had charge of the short business session after which Mrs. Daugherty and Mrs. Uzzle directed games and entertainment.

Program-Planning Meeting at McLeansboro
By District B. & P. W. Club

Six members of the Harrisburg Business & Professional Women's club attended a program planning meeting Tuesday evening in McLeansboro. This meeting had been called by Miss Esther Kallenbach, Carmi, chairman of District 13 of B. & P. W. clubs. Harrisburg club is one of four clubs in this district, with Carmi, Mc-Leansboro and Fairfield.

The four presidents and over twenty members attended the picnic potluck supper which was held in the Isaac Walton cottage at the McLeansboro park. After the enjoyable meal, the business was transacted by Miss Kallenbach.
She stressed the program theme for all club this year - "Aim High." Special efforts will be on membership increases.

During National Business Women's week, Sept. 25-Oct. 1, Harrisburg club will be hostess to the district meeting, tentatively set for Sept. 27. The four presidents will be responsible for preparation of the program.

For the past few years the clubs have exchanged programs during the year, one club presenting its monthly program to another club by a sort of "round robin" plan. At Tuesday's meeting it was agreed to follow the same plan this fall and winter.

Attending from Harrisburg were Miss Meriam Evans, president; Mrs. Edna Lewis, vice president, and the following chairmen: Mrs.
Marie Cooley, Miss Mary Richardson, Miss Iris Craggs, and Miss Irene Beasley.

Erma Franks Circle Holds All-Day Meeting

The Erma Franks circle of the First Baptist church met for the July social at the beautiful country home of Mrs. Orval Dean. An all day gathering was held with potluck at noon.

In the afternoon a program and business meeting was held. The president praised the circle members for accomplishments such as buying eight junior Bibles for the Harrisburg Mission, paint for the Equality Mission, buying new books for the Franks for whom the circle is named, serving a meal at the country home, and donating money for supplies for the church kitchen, among many other things.

At the close of the day all expressed their enjoyment at having spent the day with Mrs. Dean.
Nine members were present and two visitors.

Dorris Heights WSCS Enjoys Potluck Supper

Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Dorris Heights Methodist church met at the country home of Mr. and Mrs.
Warren Evans Tuesday evening for potluck supper consisting of fried chicken and all the good things that make up a delicious meal, with plenty of homemade ice cream and cake.

Afterwards, Mrs. R. S. Beck,
the pastor's wife, played piano music for group singing. A grocery shopper was also held for them.

Those attending were Rev. and Mrs. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Blufford Womack, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Josey,
Mr. and Mrs. Toral Cook and Judy,
Mr. and Mrs. Louie Vannis, Mr.

man Conover and Mary Ann,
Frank and Sally, Lydia Wilgus,
Mary Jane Rice, the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Evans and Rosemary, Sammy, Annalee and Marilyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Myra Edmond of Joliet are visiting in Harrisburg with her mother, Mrs. Nellie Adams, and her grandmother, Mrs. Helen Patton. They will also visit relatives in Paducah, Ky.,
and Mrs. Edmond's sister, Gloria Lanton and family in Chicago.
Mrs. Edmond was formerly Myra Adams.

Philathea Contest Losers Entertain Winning Side

The losers of a recent contest held by the Philathea class of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church entertained the winning side with a potluck Tuesday evening at Holloway's cafe. Mrs. Essie Holloway, the group captain of the losers, invited the winners and their group captain, Mrs. Reva English, to the cafe for the evening.

A bountiful dinner of fried chicken and all the trimmings was set.

Present to enjoy the evening

Each one departed thanking Mrs.
Holloway for a lovely evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chatfield have returned home after a month's visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred J.
Wescott, in Tulsa, Okla.

Delta Alpha Chapter Hears Convention Report

Delta Alpha chapter of Delta Theta Tau held its final business meeting of the season Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Howard Coyle, Mrs. Ronald Darnell, Mrs. Kenneth Ozment and Mrs. Tom Endicott were granted memberships at large. Mrs.
Darnell has made plans to teach in the city schools at Bloomington this fall. Mrs. Ozment is leaving soon to join her husband who is stationed in Washington, and Mrs.
Coyle, a former resident of Harrisburg, is now permanently located in Chicago.

The president, Barbara Thompson, who represented Delta Alpha at the Delta Theta Tau convention held July 12-16 at Fort Wayne, Ind., gave an interesting report on the business and social events of the convention. The social highlight of the convention, she stated, was the "Feast of the Deer Moon" held on Saturday evening. The name of the feast was based on the Indian theory that the July moon is the deer moon. A dance followed the banquet.

Miss Thompson announced that Eve Fair of Bloomington, Ind., was elected president, and Herta Gola of Belleville, Ill., was elected vice president.

Miss Donna Zach, Ashland, Wis., 11-year-old niece of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burns, 315 South Mc-Kinley, has spent a month visiting her uncle and aunt on her first long visit away from home alone.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hancock of 1315 South Fazel, have had visiting them the past two weeks, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carbone and daughter, Vicky, their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James DeNeal of Oden, Ind., and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hancock and son, Larry, of Sesser. They all enjoyed a picnic at Dixon Springs last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Carbone left for their home in Bellflower, Calif., on Monday.

St. Louis Asks Congress
For $130 Million
Flood Control Project

WASHINGTON — Missouri's
senators and St. Louis city officials asked Congress Wednesday to authorize a $130,987,000 flood control project for the city.

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. told a Senate Public Works subcommittee that "it is the worst kind of economic irresponsibility to allow these wasteful and needless flood losses to continue unchecked" in St. Louis. He said the city had disastrous floods in 1947, 1948, 1951 and 1952.

Hennings said "it is only by great good fortune" that the Mississippi and Missouri rivers, which join north of the city, have not flooded at the same time.

One Man Killed, Two Partially Buried
In Sewer Excavation

SPRING VALLEY, Ill. —
One man was killed and two others were partially buried for more than an hour today when the sides of a sewer excavation they were digging crumbled on top of them.
Peter Ferrari, about 60, was buried beneath the falling dirt and died before rescuers could reach him.

Peter Gerando was buried up to his head, but passersby scraped away enough dirt so he could breathe. Joe Lucas, street superintendent here, was buried up to his waist. Rescuers managed to dig them free in about an hour and 20 minutes.

House Removes Ban Against Shorts in Gallery

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House doorkeeper winked and said: "I guess we'll have to let them in even if they're only wearing a G-string."

That was shortly after House officials, obviously embarrassed, repealed a long-standing ban that has barred the doors of the public galleries to any woman or teen-age girl trying to beat the heat by wearing scanty shorts.

"Our instructions now," the doorkeeper said, "are to let them all in—shorts or not."

With mock dignity he added that the "not" could "cover an awful lot of territory right down to a G-string."

DON'T SCRATCH THAT ITCH! IN JUST 15 MINUTES

Immigrant in Rented Room Leaves Fortune

CHICAGO (AP)—A Hungarian immigrant who lived in a rented room here has left an estate of $2,200,000 and willed more than half of it to charity.

The immigrant, Emanuel Lebowitz, "lived to give," relatives said.

Lebowitz, a childless widower, made his fortune in a loop dress manufacturing business.

He did so well he was able to retire around 1930. From then on he increased his fortune by playing the stock market.

Lebowitz died July 7 at the age of 68.

His will, filed Wednesday in Probate Court, apportioned an estimated $1,360,000 in equal shares to the National Jewish Hospital in Denver, the Jewish Federation of Chicago, the Shrine Hospital Association and the Illinois Masonic Hospital.

"Mr. Lebowitz believed that both the Shrine and Masonic hospitals had done so much good that his philanthropies should extend beyond his own religion," Louis H. Goebel, attorney for the estate, said.

The will also left about $750,000 to 12 nephews, one niece and one grandniece. Three institutions and one agency were named as added beneficiaries.

The vehicular tunnel under the Detroit River connecting Detroit, Mich., and Windsor, Ont., is the only international tunnel in the world.

LOST 65 LBS. WITH RENNEL RECIPE

CHICAGO, ILL. "I am 56 years of age and before taking Rennel Concentrate I weighed 245 lbs. This was a year or more ago and after taking the Rennel home recipe I was able to lose 65 lbs. I felt fine and had lots of pep and energy for my daily work. During the holidays, however, I gained some of my weight back while not taking Rennel. Now I have started on the home recipe reducing plan again and already I have lost 10 lbs. Thanks a lot for Rennel." So writes Betty Teufel of 3009 W. 56th St.

Swaps, Nashua Match Race Aug. 31 If Both in Shape

CHICAGO — A match race between Swaps and Nashua to settle the 1955 three-year-old championship will come off Aug. 31 if the horses train up to condition, owners Rex Ellsworth and William Woodward said today.

The race, a mile and a quarter, $100,000 winner take all event was announced for Washington Park Wednesday by Executive Director Benjamin Lindheimer. Swaps is unbeaten as a three-year-old with six stake victories while Nashua has won eight of nine races, losing only to Swaps in the Kentucky Derby.

"If Nashua should fail to show the form in training that he has shown in winning eight out of nine races," Woodward said, "then of course the race would be off."

Ellsworth and Trainer Mickey Tenney said Swaps would run provided he was in good condition.

"I don't think anyone would want to see the two horses unless they are at their best form," Tenney said.

Each horse will carry 126 pounds with the nation's leading rider, Willie Shoemaker, up on Swaps and Eddie Arcaro riding Nashua.

National Anthem

Francis Scott Key wrote the words to "The Star-Spangled Banner" in 1814, and it became the official national anthem of the United States by act of Congress in 1931.

DX, Pankey's, Dairy Brand and Wildcats Win in Kiwanis League Play

By David Nelson
DX defeated the Coca Colas, 10-2; Pankey's downed the Dodgers, 20-15; Dairy Brand crushed the Cubs, 22-11; and the Wildcats beat VFW, 8-4, in Kiwanis play Wednesday.

DX scored four runs in the first and led all the way as they defeated the Coca Colas, 10-2.

The winners also scored one in the second, two in the fifth and three in the sixth, to complete their 10-run total. The losers scored both of their runs in the fourth.

Dowdy went all the way for DX, giving up six hits and two walks, while striking out 10. Henshaw, on the hill for the Coca Colas, allowed seven hits and five walks and struck out six.

For DX at bat Holden doubled, and King, Clark, Reid, Wathen, Collins and Hefner collected a single apiece. Yarbler led the Coca Colas at bat with two singles while Aldridge, Biggs, Henshaw and Price hit safely one apiece for the losers.

Pankey's came into a tie for first place as they downed the Dodgers, 20-15.

The winners scored two in the first and second, six in the third, four in the fourth and three in the fifth.

Pankey's scored three runs in the second, two in the third and one in the fifth.

McKeever, on the hill for Dairy Brand, gave up seven hits and five walks and struck out 10. Gibbons and Winters, Cub pitchers, allowed 12 hits and eight walks while striking out five.

Owens led Dairy Brand with four safeties. McKeever had three, including a homer, Darrar and Anglin collected two hits apiece, and Fields had one to complete the Dairy Brand attack.

Gibbons and Banks had two hits and Winters, Coolin and Oldham hit safely for the Cubs.

The Wildcats tied off with four runs in the first and went on to beat VFW, 8-4.

The winners also tallied one in the second and three in the third. The losers scored one in the third, fifth, sixth and seventh.

E. Henshaw, Wildcat southpaw gave up seven hits and five walks, while striking out nine. Roper and Syers, VFW pitchers, allowed seven hits and five walks and struck out six.

Agin and J. B. Henshaw collected two hits and L. Henshaw, Strickland and Oze had one safety apiece for the Wildcats. For VFW at the plate Feazel, Syers and Hancock picked up two hits and Roper had one safety.

The plan seems to have lots in its favor. It seems to be something that everyone in Harrisburg can wholeheartedly support.

Another meeting is scheduled for next Monday evening and all those interested in seeing night baseball in Harrisburg becoming a reality are invited to attend and get the full details of the program, as now planned.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who have been playing on the road for the past several days, are due back at Busch Stadium next week to start a long home stand. The Cards will be host to Pittsburgh in three night games, July 26, 27 and 28.

Then comes the league-leading Dodgers for night games July 29 and 30 and a day game Sunday, July 31. New York and Philadelphia follow in that order.

The pros have raised millions of dollars for worthy causes in these early games and the proceeds give the magnates a financial cushion for rainy days throughout the championship grind. It costs a lot of money to equip, ship and feed a gridiron mammoth and he has to be in shape to play football the way hired hands play it today. The Lions' meat bill alone at Michigan State Normal, Ypsilanti, last summer was $9,000.

THE COLLEGE ALL-STAR game at Chicago's Soldier Field, the Cleveland Browns representing the coin collectors this trip, Aug. 12, does not open the National League's exhibition schedule, as you might suspect. The Rams tackle the Ft. Ord squad in Long Beach, Calif., as early as July 30, and the strong boys are off on the pre-season run until Sept. 18.

The championship season opens Sept. 24-26, depending on the from.

The football pros have no part of the trouble in finding prospects that perplex their baseball counterparts.

For example, Jim Salisbury, 229-pound All-America lineman at UCLA; Darris McCord, 245-pound tackle from Tennessee; Elijah Childers, 265-pounder from Prairie View A. and M.; Herb McDermott, a 230-pounder from Iowa State; and Jim Walters, a 235-pounder from Mississippi, are only among the top newcomers battling for the line posts with the defending Western Division champions, the Detroit Lions.

CLEVELAND FRESHMEN are headed by Weldon Renfro, North Texas State back, and Sam Palumbo, Notre Dame tackle. The Chicago Cardinals' peagreens are topped by Max Boydston, Oklahoma end, and Lindon Crow, Southern California back. The New York Giants, preparing way out west at Willamette University of Salem, Ore., off Joe Heap, the Notre Dame back, and some more.

Among those breaking in with the Philadelphia Eagles are Dick Bielski, Maryland back, and tackle Buck Lansford of Texas. The Pittsburgh Steelers lead with end E. Bernet of Southern Methodist and tackle Frank Varichione of Notre Dame.

Ralph Guglielmi of Notre Dame is expected to share the Washington quarterbacking with Eddie LeBaron. Wisconsin's Alan Ameche will do his future horsing for the Baltimore Colts and is to be assisted up front by center Dick Szanski of Notre Dame. The Chicago Bears have Bob Watkins, Ohio State back, and end Joe O'Malley of Georgia.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

A few days ago in Timmo's About Town and Country column were published a couple of letters received by TT from two Harrisburg men interested in getting a lighted baseball field constructed in Harrisburg. These two—Buddy Sowsels and "Huck" Gee, have been busy with the project and Monday night of this week a meeting was held at the Harrisburg funeral home attended by several interested in seeing the proposed program carried to a successful conclusion.

At Monday's meeting an organization was set up with the following officers elected—Bob Karnes, president; Charles "Huck" Gee, secretary-treasurer; William Barrett, Maynard Cannon, Raymond Pickard, Buddy Sowsels and Hugh Walker, directors.

Arrangements are being completed to lease the old Miners' field (across the road from the fairgrounds) for a five-year period with an option for five additional years. The VFW of Harrisburg has agreed to pay the lease fee. It is stated.

Gee states the plans call for a lighted park, with grandstands to accommodate 300 fans, water fountains, toilets and a concession stand. The total cost is figured at $4,000 with most of the labor being donated, which has been promised, and donations for the program are coming in "faster than expected," but haven't reached the half way mark as yet.

The sponsors of the program state they are planning the baseball diamond for teen-age players only—that their interest is to provide a place for the youngsters to play baseball at night. They feel that the parents of the boys would like to have the opportunity of seeing the boys play ball, but can't get away from their work to attend games in the day time. Night ball would make for a closer boy-parent participation in the baseball program.

The plan seems to have lots in its favor. It seems to be something that everyone in Harrisburg can wholeheartedly support.

George Susce Jr., Son of Kansas City Coach, Blanks A's as Red Sox Win, 6-0

By United Press
The most rabid baseball fan in Kansas City could forgive Coach George (Good Kid) Susce today if he's bursting his buttons with pride.

The Boston Red Sox stretched the Athletics' latest losing streak to nine games with a 6-0 victory Wednesday night—and it was none other than the coach's 23-year-old son, George Susce Jr., who was the chief villain.

Susce Jr., a strong-armed right hander, yielded a leadoff single to Vic Power and then hurled no-hit ball for the remainder of the game.

The victory enabled the onrushing Red Sox to move within a game of the third-place Cleveland Indians, who lost to the Washington Senators, 6-4, and again tightened the American League race.

The second-place Chicago White Sox advanced to within two games of first place with an 8-6 triumph over the New York Yankees.

But the drama of the night was unfolded in Kansas City. Susce Jr. had compiled a 4-3 mark for the Red Sox but Manager Mike Higgins never before had pitched him against the Athletics.

Around the league, fans and players wondered when the young pitcher would react when he finally was called upon to pitch against his father's team.

Dad Watches From Bulpen
A 14-game winner from Louisville last season, Susce Jr. turned in his first big league shutout while his father watched the progress of the game from the bullpen. The 47-year-old coach, who groomed his son to be a ball-player, played for five major league teams but caught a total of 145 games in eight seasons.

It was the first time Susce Jr. had seen his son pitch in a major league game, but he was so busy in the bullpen 412 feet from the plate that he only saw him briefly. The young pitcher's mother, brother, and sister were in the stands, however, and got a much better look.

The Red Sox, who have won 18 of their last 23 games, knocked out Arnold Portocarrero with four runs in the second inning and added two more runs in the third. National league castoff Grady Hatton contributed a single to the second-inning rally and a triple in the third frame.

The Senators scored four unearned runs off Early Wynn in the third inning and won their fifth straight game. Eddie Yost's home run and Joe Valdivia's triple were the big blows of the game for the Senators, who now have a 7-6 season edge over Cleveland. The Indians whipped them 18 times in 22 meetings en route to the pennant last season.

The White Sox routed Bob Turley in the first inning and built up an 8-0 lead over the Yankees in three frames. Dick Donovan, who is fairly certain to be the first rookie to win 20 games for the White Sox in 54 years, was knocked out when the Yankees scored five runs in the seventh inning but got credit for the win to make his record 13-2.

Hal Smith drove in four runs and Dave Pope two to lead the Baltimore Orioles to a 6-3 win over the Detroit Tigers in the other A. L. game.

Newcombe Wins 16th
In the National League, Don Newcombe won his 16th game behind a five-homer barrage that included two each by Duke Snider and Don Zimmer as the Brooklyn Dodgers whipped the Chicago Cubs, 10-1. The Cubs snapped a nine-game losing streak in the nightcap with a 5-3 verdict. With 33 homers in 92 games, Snider is

(three games ahead of Babe Ruth's record 1327 pace.)

The Philadelphia Phillies set a modern club record of nine straight triumphs with 5-0 and 4-2 wins over the Cincinnati Redlegs. Saul Rogovin pitched a five-hitter for his first N. L. win in the opener and Curt Simmons went the route for his sixth victory in the second game. The Phillies moved into fifth place, a half game behind the fourth-place Cubs.

Pinch-hitter Preston Ward's three-run seventh-inning homer gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 4-3 win over the Milwaukee Braves, who have dropped three in a row while Tom Poholsky breezed behind a 15-hit attack that swept the Cardinals to a 9-2 verdict over the New York Giants in the other National league games.

The plan seems to have lots in its favor. It seems to be something that everyone in Harrisburg can wholeheartedly support.

Another meeting is scheduled for next Monday evening and all those interested in seeing night baseball in Harrisburg becoming a reality are invited to attend and get the full details of the program, as now planned.

The St. Louis Cardinals, who have been playing on the road for the past several days, are due back at Busch Stadium next week to start a long home stand. The Cards will be host to Pittsburgh in three night games, July 26, 27 and 28.

Then comes the league-leading Dodgers for night games July 29 and 30 and a day game Sunday, July 31. New York and Philadelphia follow in that order.

The pros have raised millions of dollars for worthy causes in these early games and the proceeds give the magnates a financial cushion for rainy days throughout the championship grind. It costs a lot of money to equip, ship and feed a gridiron mammoth and he has to be in shape to play football the way hired hands play it today. The Lions' meat bill alone at Michigan State Normal, Ypsilanti, last summer was $9,000.

THE COLLEGE ALL-STAR game at Chicago's Soldier Field, the Cleveland Browns representing the coin collectors this trip, Aug. 12, does not open the National League's exhibition schedule, as you might suspect. The Rams tackle the Ft. Ord squad in Long Beach, Calif., as early as July 30, and the strong boys are off on the pre-season run until Sept. 18.

The championship season opens Sept. 24-26, depending on the from.

The football pros have no part of the trouble in finding prospects that perplex their baseball counterparts.

For example, Jim Salisbury, 229-pound All-America lineman at UCLA; Darris McCord, 245-pound tackle from Tennessee; Elijah Childers, 265-pounder from Prairie View A. and M.; Herb McDermott, a 230-pounder from Iowa State; and Jim Walters, a 235-pounder from Mississippi, are only among the top newcomers battling for the line posts with the defending Western Division champions, the Detroit Lions.

CLEVELAND FRESHMEN are headed by Weldon Renfro, North Texas State back, and Sam Palumbo, Notre Dame tackle. The Chicago Cardinals' peagreens are topped by Max Boydston, Oklahoma end, and Lindon Crow, Southern California back. The New York Giants, preparing way out west at Willamette University of Salem, Ore., off Joe Heap, the Notre Dame back, and some more.

Among those breaking in with the Philadelphia Eagles are Dick Bielski, Maryland back, and tackle Buck Lansford of Texas. The Pittsburgh Steelers lead with end E. Bernet of Southern Methodist and tackle Frank Varichione of Notre Dame.

Ralph Guglielmi of Notre Dame is expected to share the Washington quarterbacking with Eddie LeBaron. Wisconsin's Alan Ameche will do his future horsing for the Baltimore Colts and is to be assisted up front by center Dick Szanski of Notre Dame. The Chicago Bears have Bob Watkins, Ohio State back, and end Joe O'Malley of Georgia.

GREEN BAY PACKERS step it up with Lee Riley, University of Detroit back, and Jim Temp of Wisconsin and guard Tom Bettis

Mamie Takes Other Big Four 'Widows' For Boat Ride

GENEVA (UP)—Mrs. Eisenhower took the other Big Four conference "widows" for a gay boat ride today on shimmering Lake Geneva. It was the American first lady's biggest social event of the meeting.

The weather was perfect for the 3½-hour cruise on which Mrs. Eisenhower was hostess to five wives of other officials at the talks.

The 52-foot luxury cruiser "Lelma" was loaned to Mrs. Eisenhower for the event by retired French jeweler Pierre Cartier and his American wife.

The President's wife wore a white cloche hat and a cool black and white figured silk frock as she boarded the yacht to welcome her guests.

The wife of Swiss President Max Petitpierre was the first guest to arrive. Then came the wife of France's Premier Edgar Faure, Britain's Lady Clarissa Eden, Mrs. John Foster Dulles, wife of the U. S. secretary of state, and Mrs. Livingston Merchant, wife of the U. S. assistant secretary of state.

Floods Hit El Paso, Texas

By United Press

Hundreds of persons were forced to evacuate their homes when a flood of water fed by torrential rains swept down on El Paso, Tex., early today.

The water poured down off Mt. Franklin in the northeast part of the city and got as high as window sills in the Mountain View area, a residential section of 15,000 to 20,000 homes.

Damage was estimated in the millions of dollars.

Soldiers from nearby Fort Bliss and National Guard units evacuated the residents by truck to the El Paso Coliseum, which was filled with cots.

Roads and railroad lines in the area were impassable. Some highways were torn up by huge boulders and debris coming down off Mount Franklin.

No serious injuries were reported.

The rain was another of the downpours that have hit west and

Gray to Carry Fight for Federal Prison to Senate

Congressman Kenneth J. Gray (D, Ill.), 25th District, today announced that he will ask the help of several U. S. Senators for inclusion in the Supplemental Appropriation Bill for the Department of Justice, the amount of $17,100,000 to build two Federal Penitentiaries. The amount was rejected by the House Appropriations committee and Gray made a fight on the floor of the House to have the funds restored but his request was rejected on a point of order made by the Appropriations committee.

Gray announced that he believed his district had a very good chance of locating one of these Federal prisons, providing the money is appropriated. Gray stated that the House Appropriations committee gave as their reason for turning down the U. S. Bureau of Prisons request the fact that James Bennett, Director of U. S. Bureau of Prisons, did not specifically state that the new proposed maximum security penitentiary was to replace Alcatraz and did not submit detailed specifications for these proposed penitentiaries.

Gray said that if the Senate would include the funds, the House might concur; otherwise, there will be no chance for the appropriation this year because the House plans to adjourn before any additional appropriations bills can be acted upon. Gray said the rejection by the Appropriation Committee did not mean the prisons would not be built, because he felt that it would reconsider and, in all probability appropriate the money next year if the Senate failed to act in this Session.

Expect Agreement On Lowering The Iron Curtain

GENEVA (UP)—A four-power agreement on lowering the Iron Curtain between East and West was confidently expected today to result from the Big Four summit talks.

The conference scheduled formal discussion of "development of contacts between East and West" as one of the four main items on the agenda.

Conference sources predicted that an understanding was almost certain to be reached on this point. But it would be done by slow stages.

Observers said the talks would set only the broad outlines of the scope of future contacts between the East and West which have been divided for nearly 10 years.

Behind the move lies the assumption that direct contacts between the two camps might prove one of the most effective ways to relax international tension.

The West has most prominently in mind an understanding with Russia which would enable Western diplomats and press representatives to move more freely in the Communist East.

Russia has in mind, in addition to cultural contacts, a loosening up of the West's trade embargo. Bulgarian has said that "this could lead to favorable results for the improvement of the well-being of peoples, relaxation of tension and consolidation of confidence among nations."

Gov't Closes Fiscal Year with $4.1 Billion Deficit in Budget

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government announced today that it closed the 1955 fiscal year on June 30 with a budget deficit of $4,192,000,000. This was some $300,000,000 less than had been forecast last January.

The deficit was more than $1,000,000,000 higher than at the end of fiscal 1954, but less than half the fiscal 1953 deficit.

Marion Signs New Two Year Contract To Manage White Sox

CHICAGO (UP)—Marty Marion of the Chicago White Sox today signed a two-year contract covering 1956 and 1957 at the highest price ever paid a Sox manager.

Marion signed following a conference with General Manager Frank C. Lane and Vice-President Charles A. Comiskey. There was speculation that the new contract calls for a salary of about $30,000 per year.

Russian Farm Experts Shrug Off Second Incident

AMES, Iowa (UP)—Russia's touring farm experts shrugged off the second "incident" of their corn belt tour today and went into college classrooms to learn the scientific side of Iowa's tremendous crop production.

The latest incident occurred Wednesday as the Soviets stopped at the farm of Guy Stover Jr., near Reinbeck, Iowa. A man who identified himself as Dan Baker, president of the Iowa Anti-Communist League, marched onto the farm carrying a sign which said:

"There is no freedom in Russia." V. V. Matskevich, head of the Russian delegation, said jokingly that "we do not see anything that is not on the itinerary."

Matskevich, acting Soviet minister of agriculture, made the remark when John Strohm, the American official in charge of the tour, told the Russians that this incident and one the day before were examples of "the extreme opinions of the right and left in the United States."

In the other incident, a Negro college student confronted the Russians with a sign saying that Iowans are prejudiced.

If Father-in-Law is Hen-pecked, Beware

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP)—Take a long hard look at your prospective father-in-law before you marry, Dr. John J. Kane, head of Notre Dame University's sociology department, advised at the college's annual marriage institute.

"If he's a cringing Milquetoast shackled to a matriarch, break off the courtship," Kane said.

"The best way to handle tension with in-laws is to avoid it."

Congressman Gray Blasts Higley Rejection Of More Beds at Marion Veterans Hospital

Congressman Kenneth J. Gray, Democrat, 25th District, charged U. S. Veterans Administrator H. V. Higley with "gross irresponsibility" in turning down his request for an expansion of the Marion Veterans hospital.

Gray was notified by Administrator Higley today that his request for a building program to provide at least 100 additional beds at Marion had been denied, a request he made soon after his election to Congress.

Gray explained that when the Midwest region, which includes southern Illinois, southeast Kentucky and Missouri was surveyed in the late 1930's as to the need for a Veterans hospital to care for World War I veterans, it was determined at that time that a 500 bed hospital was needed. Congress subsequently authorized and work was started on a 500 bed hospital. Due to the fact that sufficient funds were not available at the time the bids were opened for construction, only a 150 bed hospital was built. Since that period, we have had World War II and the Korean conflict, which has forced the Marion Veterans hospital to care for thousands of additional sick and disabled veterans in addition to all World War I veterans for whom the hospital was built.

Over the passing several years, the hospital had been expanded to a total of 176 beds which is in full operation at the present time.

Gray stated that he had received hundreds of letters immediately after his election to Congress complaining about the crowded conditions and the inability of many veterans to be admitted to the hospital. Gray stated that Administrator Higley gave his reasons for turning down the request the fact that "Generally sufficient facilities are available to permit admittance of veterans who require hospitalization for general medical and surgical conditions with little or no delay." Higley also stated that additional facilities are available at the Veterans Administration hospitals located at Poplar Bluff and St. Louis, Missouri. Higley further stated "there are relatively few veterans awaiting admission to any of these hospitals."

In answer to this, Gray said someone is "mistaken" because he said he has personally contacted all three of the above hospitals many times in the past few months, trying to gain admission for sick and disabled veterans and was informed at each place on each occasion that there were so many veterans on the waiting list that each hospital was unable to admit when they would be able to admit the patient. In the case of Marion, Gray stated he has never been told that there were less than fifty on the waiting list at one time and the number has run up to considerably more than 100 on many occasions.

Gray stated he intends to take his fight to the floor of Congress for the additional expansion program but admitted that the prospects of getting the additional beds would be considerably more difficult with the Veterans Administration fighting the expansion.

Gray stated that he is going to call upon each veteran and Veterans organization in his district to sign petitions requesting this much needed expansion program. Gray stated that the Twenty-fifth

Ira Cash Rites At Marion Friday

Funeral services for Ira Cash, Marion funeral director who died Tuesday in the Marion Memorial hospital, will be Friday at 2 p. m. at the Wilson-Frick funeral home. Rev. Thomas E. Morton, assisted by Rev. T. R. Brown, will officiate, and burial will be in the Maple Wood cemetery.

East St. Louis Raises Toll Charges on Veterans Memorial Bridge

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (UP)—The East St. Louis City Council Wednesday adopted a resolution boosting toll charges on the Veterans Memorial Bridge spanning the Mississippi River.

Under the plan, which becomes effective Aug. 1, fares for passenger cars will be raised 5 cents, while truck rates will go up 5 cents to 20 cents depending on their size.

The city said it would use the additional revenue to retire 10 million dollars in outstanding bonds and provide about 2 million dollars of the cost of an expressway connection with four major highways.

Bomb Explodes in Buenos Aires

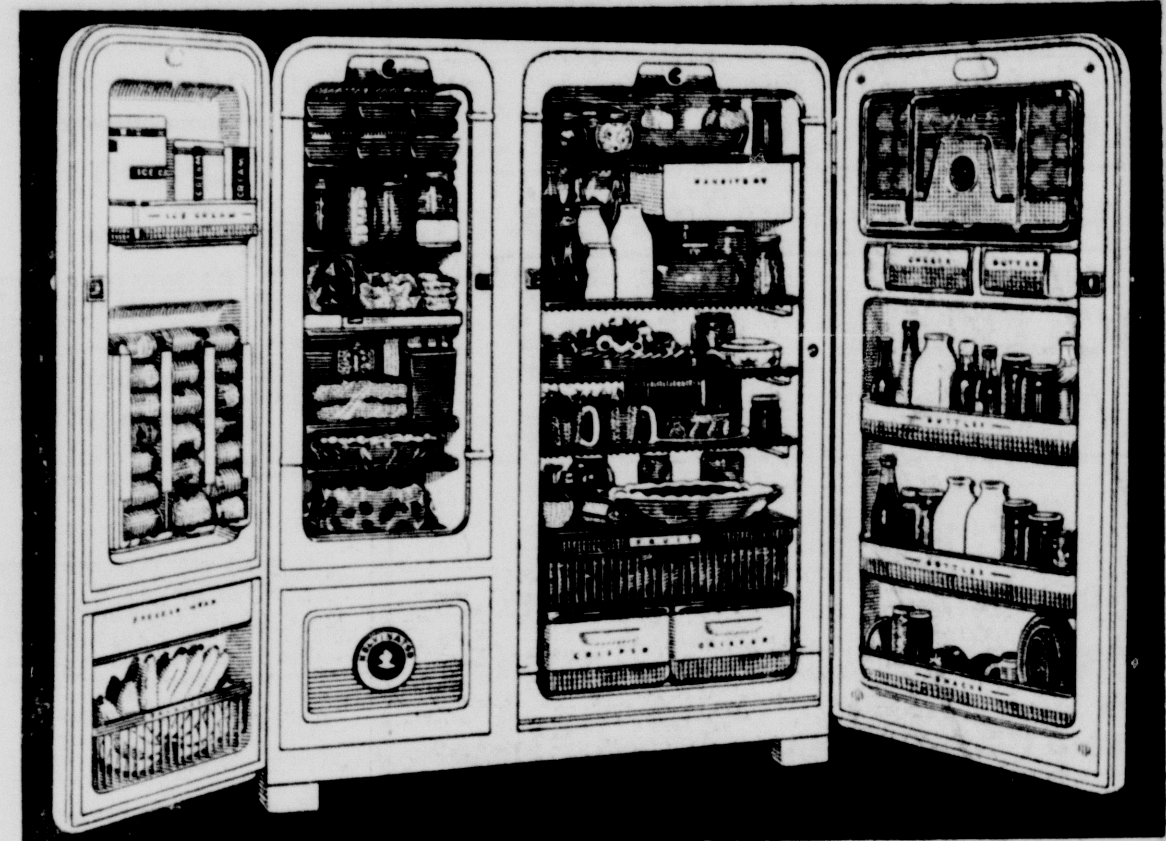

BUENOS AIRES (UP)—A small bomb exploded in the plant of a pro-government magazine today in this city already tense with new "rumors" of a rebellion against President Juan D. Peron's government.

The Argentine national radio said reports of an uprising against Peron were merely "rumors."

The bomb shattered glass in doors and windows in the building of the Peronista Party magazine Mundo. A secondary Peronista party school is in the building.

The government radio attacked "rumor mongers" and accused them of circulating reports Wednesday of a navy rebellion, causing a police alert in several cities.

U. S. Mail Trucks Feature Poster Of Smokey, the Fire Prevention Bear

"Smokey," the fire prevention bear, is being seen by millions of people these days and his words of wisdom, "Always Be Careful," should be heeded by fishermen, hunters and vacationists who go into the wooded areas.

Smokey is being seen by millions because his picture and these words, "Vacation Reminder: Prevent Forest Fires," will be on 15,000 U. S. Mail trucks between July 15 and August 15.

And Harrisburg is no exception, because the Smokey poster has been placed on the Harrisburg mail truck by Postmaster A. M. Hetherington.

Since 1942, a special nationwide campaign has been conducted each year to obtain greater public cooperation in the prevention of forest fires. It is now known as the Co-Operative Forest Fire Prevention campaign, officially sponsored by the state foresters of 43 states and the U. S. Forest Service.

This campaign has continued each year with the active support of the advertising industry, through its Advertising Council, Inc., and the co-operation of many other organizations and individuals. The Post Office department and other federal agencies have helped greatly in displaying fire prevention posters to the public.

A 1945 campaign poster showed a bear dousing a campfire with a bucket of water. "Smokey," as the bear was called, seemed to catch the public fancy, and since 1947 each year's campaign poster has featured the fire prevention bear.

In 1950 a bear cub, rescued from a forest fire in New Mexico, was named after the fire-prevention poster's Smokey, and his story was carried in newspapers and on radio and television from coast to coast.

Reduction in Fires
The U. S. Forest Service has the following to say about the campaign to reduce forest fires:

"Certainly as a result of these educational efforts, the American public has seen and heard more about forest fire prevention than ever before. Just how many fires have been prevented by these campaigns is impossible to determine. Undoubtedly, however, they were responsible in no small measure for the fact that the number of fires averaged over 15,000 a year less during the five-year period 1946-50 than in the years before World War II.

"This reduction occurred in spite of increases in registrations in national forests and parks, in sale of hunting and fishing licenses, in motor travel, and in other factors which indicate that public use of forests and outdoor areas has increased substantially in the post-war years.

"Prevention of man-caused fires ultimately depends upon public co-operation. When every person can be made to understand the value of forests, their great susceptibility to fire damage, and his personal responsibility in preventing fires, the problem of man-caused fires will be solved."

So Smokey during a 30-day period starting July 15 is reminding people all over the nation to be careful in the forests.

Organize Old Car Club at Fairfield

Like to drive in style? If you can think up an unusual name for the newly organized old car club of Fairfield, Ill., you might just get that opportunity.

Sponsored by the Fairfield Chamber of Commerce, this group, consisting of antique and classic car owners, are seeking new members and a name for their club.

Anyone in Southern Illinois may join the club even if you do not own your own car. Several members know where an antique can be bought if you would like the fun of fixing one up.

The person who's name the club selects will be given a royal day in his home town.

Club members will tour to his community, drive him around in style, in cars at least 25 years old, but purring like new, and treat him to a chicken picnic.

So send your name suggestions to Box 89, Fairfield, before August 11, and you may be the lucky winner. And if you'd like to attend the next meeting, it will be held on July 28th at 8 p. m., in the Community Center. Meetings are held every second and fourth Thursdays.

State Steps Up Instruction In Mine Safety

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — In the first six months of 1955 the Illinois Department of Mines and Minerals, working in conjunction with federal mine inspectors, instructed 1,314 men in mine accident prevention.

The department's stepped-up program resulted in the training of 539 more miners than were instructed during the same six months of 1954.

The decreased number of mine casualties is a direct result of our stepped-up program, Schull said.

The 1954 half-year casualty totals are 11 fatalities and 500 injuries as compared to 16 fatalities and 543 injuries in the first six months of 1954.

Accident prevention is taught to Illinois miners by mine rescue station superintendent Arch Ivy, Benton; state mine inspectors Theodore Plumlee, West Frankfort, and Albert Morris, Taylorville; and federal mine inspectors A. J. Kopp and W. W. Keesler, both working out of Vincennes, Ind.

Government Owns Fifth of U. S. Land

WASHINGTON — (AP) — More than one-fifth of the nation's land is owned by the government.

This means that more than 405,000,000 acres in the continental United States are under federal control, said Rep. E. Ross Adair (R-Ind.).

Uncle Sam spent more than $30,000,000,000 for land, buildings and other facilities—not including land in the public domain, national parks and forests, he said.

The Department of the Interior owns the most land—212,000,000 acres—over half the total. The Department of Agriculture ranks second with 41.6 per cent and the Defense Department is third with 5.2 per cent.

This information was given Congress in a General Services Administration survey, Adair explained. It was the first federal real estate inventory since 1927. Hereafter, it will be kept up to date, he said.

Driver License Mobile Units Will Tour County Fairs in State

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special to The Register)—Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, East Moline, has a new gimmick in the form of two driver-license mobile units, which will tour the state and visit county fairs this summer and the big state fair here next month to provide service to motorists and to do a public relations job in making every automobile owner driver-license conscious.

The two units cost the state $13,000. They are air conditioned and equipped to accommodate two employees—a driver license examiner and an automobile investigator. Equipment includes a room containing two bunks—an upper and a lower—a kitchen and a sitting room which while the units are in service, will be the workroom for handling driver license applicants and other office matters.

Secretary Carpenter held a press conference in one of the units last week, to mark their being placed in official operation for the first time. Present for the occasion were Herschel Blazer, Aledo, his chief clerk; Robert Cagle, also of Aledo, chief investigator for the driver license division in the secretary's office; and Jack Nelson, Moline, chief automobile investigator.

May Distribute Plates

Carpenter said the mobile units are being put on the road as an experiment. He said if the idea is successful it "might" also be used for distribution of automobile license plates to supplement counter sale at Springfield and Chicago and delivery by mail. He said the units are the first of their kind, that no other state has driver license automobiles in operation.

The first was used at the occasion were the Cook county fair. After that it will follow the county fairs trying to make each for a one-day stop and longer where the schedule permits. Both will be in use at State Fair here Aug. 12-21 and the Chicago Automobile show.

The units which have an aluminum finish are intended, Carpenter said, to make people "more sensitive about their driver license." He estimated that at least one out of every 20 drivers in the state is either without a license or have one which has expired. This, he said, is a reduction from the previous average of one out of every ten.

The cost of notifying drivers about the upcoming expiration of their driver license, he said, is tremendous. The $13,000 spent for the mobile units will pay for themselves many times, he said. Gordon Lindquist, Chicago, assistant safety traffic engineer of the Chicago Motor Club, said the units already have proved they are a success.

Political Advantage

Cagle said the experience of the driver license division shows that 30 per cent of the licensed drivers have to be notified about expiration of their driver licenses. This means, he said, that letters have to be written to them involving correspondence and postage. He said the mobile units will provide the same service license applicants get from permanent stations. When a newsman suggested the trailer units might be a political advantage and offset a mobile unit used by State Treasurer Warren Wright, Park Ridge, often mentioned as likely to battle Carpenter for the GOP nomination of secretary of state, the secretary grinned and said: "They are for improvement of public service but if they also prove to be a political convenience that will be okay by me."

Carpenter said his office, because of its many services, is in closer contact with the people than any other state office. He said that license plates and driver licenses touch practically every family in Illinois. He said the trailer units might well be the answer to a legislator's suggestion of a "state capitol on wheels."

The traveling offices, Carpenter said, can give a big assist to traffic safety. He said they will carry a large supply of "Rules of the Road," a pocket-size booklet which lists traffic rules with illustrations and hand out to visitors as well as to applicants, and seek to promote their use in schools and industry and by civic groups.

Eldorado Legion Elects Officers

Joel Newkirk is commander-elect of the Eldorado American Legion Post 169. James O. Perkins is present commander of the organization.

Officers of the Eldorado Legion were elected this week and installation ceremonies are scheduled to be held in August.

Other officers elected are Clay Mackey, senior vice commander; Denzil Wilkerson, junior vice commander; Dr. George Fry, finance officer; Randall P. Dunn, sergeant-at-arms.

Members of the board of directors are Otto Parker, Denzil Wilkerson, Ben Morgan, Fred Hedger and James Stevens.

In baseball, the National League was founded in 1876, and the American League in 1900.

W. C. T. U. Meets At First Baptist Church
The W. C. T. U. met Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at the First Baptist church.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Myra Weir, and with the song "The White Ribbon Rally," accompanied at the piano by Darlene Goodson. Scripture reading was from the 26th chapter of Acts and was read by Mrs. Mavis Taylor. Opening prayer by Zella Greenfield.

A nice program under the direction of Mrs. Winnie Newcom was given. Lula Cravens gave a topic entitled "A Nosey Old Woman" and Mrs. Taylor read a poem entitled "He Holds the Keys." "The Mayflower Compact" was given by Mrs. Black and "A Prayer" was read by Opal Goodson. Other topics given were "God and Country" by Zella Greenfield, "Self" by Mrs. Weir and "The Death of the Drunkard's Son" by Mrs. Newcom.

The meeting was dismissed with prayer.

Present were Mrs. Myra Weir, Mrs. Lillie Cable, Mrs. Carrie Black, Zella Greenfield, Manda Johnson, Teoria Greenfield, Mrs. Mary Moore, Mrs. Lula Cravens, Mary Stafford, Opal Goodson, Darlene Goodson, Miss Effie Karnes and Rosalie Stafford.

Meetings are held on the third Tuesday of each month.

Mrs. Rhoda Yates and Mrs. Winnie Newcom spent Thursday in Eldorado as guests of Mrs. Newcom's sister, Mrs. Maud Butler.

Those who attended the W. M. U. meeting at Carrier Mills last Thursday were Mrs. Myra Weir, Mrs. Cora Naugle, Mrs. Emma Hall, Miss Zella Greenfield, Mrs. Carrie Black, Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers, Mrs. Mavis Taylor and Miss Teoria Greenfield.

Mrs. Ella Dering is a patient in Ferrell hospital.

Kenny Osborn of Michigan is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Lena Irwin.

We extend our sympathy to the bereaved of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Weir had as week end guests, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Heilman of Pekin.

Mrs. J. Walter Duncan of Harrisburg spent the week end with Mrs. Jesse Yates.

Holy Land Tour

By Dr. Archie E. Brown

Those of you who have been reading these articles will remember that we left off the last time just after landing in the Jerusalem Jordan airport.

It was about 11 a. m. when we arrived at our hotel, the Hotel Az-Zahra. This was on Saturday, July 2, 1955. We had time only for a short rest and lunch, and then we were on our way. Our party is making most of this part of the Holy Land tour by taxi and on foot.

On Saturday afternoon we saw first that Hill of Gibeat. This is the spot on which Saul, King of Israel, was born. Samuel, the prophet was buried here. It is also the first place from which the Crusaders saw the City of Jerusalem. They went on their knees here and thanked God for bringing them safely this far.

We were on the road leading down to Samaria.

Our next stop was beside the road to Samaria, on top of a high hill. From this vantage point we could see the fork of two roads. The one on our right was the Damascus Road. The left fork was the road to Antipatras.

Scene of Paul's Conversion

All Christians are familiar with the Damascus Road. It is the scene of the conversion of Paul, the Apostle. He was going down this road with his soldiers, and with letters of permission, to the ruler in Damascus, to slay all Christians there. Jesus spoke to him out of heaven: "Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?" Saul the murderer became Paul the Missionary.

Next we viewed the city of Roman, the birthplace of Samuel. Also, the prophet Jeremiah was freed from his chains here.

We then saw the place of Mishpah, the meeting place of the Jews. Here Samuel anointed Saul, King of the Jews.

We noticed that there were many fences built out of rock. These serve to divide the property according to ownership. Also, the owners must remove the rocks if they are to grow gardens.

Our next stop was at Beeroth. It was here that Mary and Joseph left Jesus and did not miss Him until they were a long way off. When they returned, they found Jesus, a lad of twelve, questioning the learned men of the temple and answering their questions. When Mary reprimanded Him, Jesus replied: "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business."

Looking across to another hill we could see Bethel. Here Jacob stopped on his first night for rest after fleeing from his brother Esau. He had taken Esau's birthright. Esau was angry. Jacob surely did hurry that first day, because he fled from Hebron which was more than twenty-five miles south of where we were standing.

Hillside of Olive Trees

That night Jacob had a dream that was to change his whole life. He dreamed of a ladder reaching to heaven with angels ascending and descending. Here he built an altar and promised God to tithe his income ever after.

As we travelled down the road toward Samaria, we saw the hillside literally covered with olive trees. The olive tree never dies. Many of these are thousands of years old. An olive tree one hundred years old looks like a very young tree.

Later we stopped near the Hill of Shiloah. Here the Ark of the Covenant rested for three centuries. It was here that Samuel heard God call his name three times in the night. The third time Samuel said: "Here am I, Lord, send me." Eli was High Priest of the temple here.

Next we stopped on a hill overlooking the Plane of the Dancers. The daughters of Israel were forbidden to marry the young men from the tribe of Benjamin. Three hundred of these young men hid in the trees near the flat plane. When the young ladies from Israel came out to dance on this plane, the Benjamites ran out from behind the trees and grabbed the young ladies and carried them off. From where we were standing, the fathers and mothers sat watching their daughters dance that evening.

You will find this story in the book of Judges along about Chapters 19-21.

We find that there are two classes of people here in Jerusalem Jordan. They are peasant and business classes. The peasant class is very poor.

Wall Divides City

Jerusalem has been divided into two parts by the Gaza Treaty in 1947. At that time the new Kingdom of Israel was established.

There is a high wall right thru the center of the city. Much fighting between the Arabs and Jews has taken place. We are within about three blocks of the wall.

After all of the rest of our party had gone to bed last night, Jim and I walked down near the dividing wall. We talked with several of the Arabs. It was quite an interesting experience. More will be told when we arrive home.

We are on the Arab side of the wall now, known as Jerusalem Jordan. Later we will go over into the Israel side.

On our journey down to Samaria, we saw the boundary line between the northern and southern kingdoms. We have been studying this in our Sunday School lessons recently.

We saw a large refugee camp on the road to Samaria. Here thousands of Arabs live now who saw better days before the Gaza incident in 1947. They are living on the other side of the city and had their property, business and possessions confiscated. It is my understanding that on the other side, many refugee Jews are living under similar circumstances. They formerly lived on this side of the city.

Next we saw the Shechem valley with Mt. Ebal on one side and Mt. Gerazim on the other. Ebal means, "cursing"; and Gerazim means, "blessing".

Near here we saw Joseph's tomb. He was buried here about 1800 B. C., 3700 years ago.

Our next stop was one of the most interesting of all. It was at Jacob's Well. The Plain of Shechem was right behind it. This well was dug more than 3700 years ago and still furnishes fine, cool drinking water.

Drink From Well

This well is 180 feet deep. I had the privilege of drawing water from this well and drinking it.

It was on this same well curb that Jesus sat and talked to the Samaritan woman from Sychar. We could look across the plain and see Sychar. Remember, Jesus told her of the husbands she had, and she ran back into the city to tell her friends? She had only about a mile to go.

We drank water from the same well that Jesus drank from.

Soon we found ourselves in Samaria. We viewed the Hill of Samaria, a Greek Orthodox church, and a priest in charge.

On the Hill of Samaria the old capital of the Northern Kingdom used to stand. This is where King Ahab and Queen Jezebel reigned. This is where Jezebel was thrown down from the balcony window on to the pavement and slain. Her blood was licked up by the dogs in the street.

In the foreground from where we stood was the City of Sabastia. This is where Herodians' daughter danced and requested the head of John the Baptist to be brought in on a platter. Yes, this is where that great "forerunner of Christ" was slain. We saw the tomb of John the Baptist. We also saw the tombs of Elisha and Obadiah in the city of Sabastia.

Little Progress Through Years

We were surely tired when we arrived back in Jerusalem at our hotel. We had a lovely meal, and we were soon in bed. Early on Sunday we started out again. This was to be a day long to be remembered by all of us. We worshipped in the Holy Land.

Let me say here that we are in a land that has made little progress through all the years. We see along the road women ploughing with oxen and wooden ploughs. Yes, the women, among the peasant class, do most of the work. We see the old-time threshing floors along the road. In these the wheat is placed on the ground and the oxen are driven round and round tramping out the grain. Then the men and women toss the grain into the air with forks and the winds blows the chaff away.

Mrs. Lura Hicks Hostess

To Mountain Home Bureau

Mrs. Lura Hicks was hostess Wednesday to the Mountain Home Bureau unit. Mrs. Wilma Harbinson, chairman, called the meeting to order and each one answered roll call with a silly experience.

The major topic was cake and desert mixes.

During the business meeting officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

Wilma Harbinson, chairman; Mary Lee Adams, vice chairman; Lura Hicks, secretary; Laverne Hathaway, program chairman; Hazel Driskell, recreation chairman and reporter.

The family picnic will be held at Pounds Hollow July 30.

Mrs. Hicks served refreshments of Cokes and open face sandwiches to the following: Mary Lee Adams, Pearl Haney, Laverne Hathaway, Hazel Driskell, Wilma Harbinson, Mayme Buchanan, a new member, Phyllis and Beverly Hicks, Mary Ellen Adams, LaNell Hathaway and Bobby Haney.

An oil well is now being drilled on the Newt Church farm in Sulphur Springs community. Mr. and Mrs. John Conkle of Equality RFD visited Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Conkle.

Those who have been dinner guests during the past week of Mr. and Mrs. John Adams and Mary Ellen have been Mrs. Mabel Vessels and children, Brenda and Johnnie Mack, and Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Ray, Vessels of Eldorado and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Adams and son, Davie, Evansville.

Guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hathaway and family have been Mr. and Mrs. Hillis Steapleton, Mr. and Mrs. John Adams and Shirley and Jackie Vessels of Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Aldridge of Harrisburg and John Thomas Ewell.

Mrs. Pearl Haney visited Tuesday evening with Mrs. Nora Church.

Mabel Booten and children, Jane Rose and Larry, called Tuesday evening on Mary Lee and John Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wilson and

We saw today the temple built by Herod over King Ahab's tomb. We also saw the strong wall around one side of the city of Jerusalem, built by King Herod.

Soon we were at the Oak of Mamre. It was under this giant oak tree that future ministry shall be filled with the blessings of this journey.

We have been treated most kindly here by the Arabs on this side of the border in Jerusalem, Jordan. Today is Tuesday, July 5, 1955. Early tomorrow we take our leave of this place and cross the border. Tomorrow we shall be in the new State of Israel. New and exciting experiences await us there.

daughters and Miss Barbara Reed of Wood River were houseguests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hicks and daughters.

The young people and some of the parents of Sulphur Springs church made a trip to Pounds Hollow Sunday evening where they held a swimming party and wiener roast. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Haney and children, Roger, Bobby, Darrell and James Earl, Mary Lee Adams, Shirley and Jack Vessels, Barbara Williams, Dallas Williams, Phyllis Hicks, Mary Ellen Adams, J. R. Steapleton, Joe Certain, Mrs. Isophene Carnett, Jimmie Carnett, Ollie Ann Carnett, Leroy Gibbs, Shelby Tarlton, Hazel Seets, Neva Rose Hopson, Mary and Chubbie Stricklin, Richard and Tom Vinyard, Jim Matthews, and Donald, Kennie and Johnnie Bob Hathaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hathaway visited Sunday evening in Eldorado.

Visitors this week of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Williams and family have been Mr. and Mrs. Earl George and children, Judy and Stephen, Jerry Hull, David Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Williams, Miss Eva Millikan, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wallace, Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Osman and children, Jerry, Larry and Janet, Herman Driskell, Mary Ellen Adams, Richard Vinyard, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Steapleton, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stille and children, Kay, Lowell and Martin, Mrs. Mabel Booten and children, Larry and Jane Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams and Mrs. and Mrs. John Conkle.

Mrs. Francis Stricklin and son, Jimmie, called one night this week on Mr. and Mrs. John Adams.

Jerry Langford of Liberty spent the week end with Donald, Kennie and Johnnie Bob Hathaway.

Pearl Haney, Mary Lee Adams and Don Oxford made a trip to Pounds Hollow Tuesday evening.

Barbara Williams, Dallas Williams, Tom and Richard Vinyard visited Sunday with Mary Ellen Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Mitchell, Harrisburg, were Sunday dinner guests of his sister, Mrs. Fannie Driskell.

Visitors this week of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Driskell have been Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bethel, Mitchellville, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stricklin and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Vergie Hicks called one evening this week with Mr. and Mrs. John Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Conkle visited one day this week with Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Pankey. Mr. Pankey is ill and has just returned from the hospital.

The milk produced annually in the United States would fill a river 300 miles long, three feet deep, and 40 feet wide.
